Q18: her study's face from the grounds (req 437 b and c, against Q18's 1)

Drawn from the castle model, version 26. The south face from the lake; her study at floor 7, x 45.5 to 49.9, behind the corridor. Gold box: recommended.

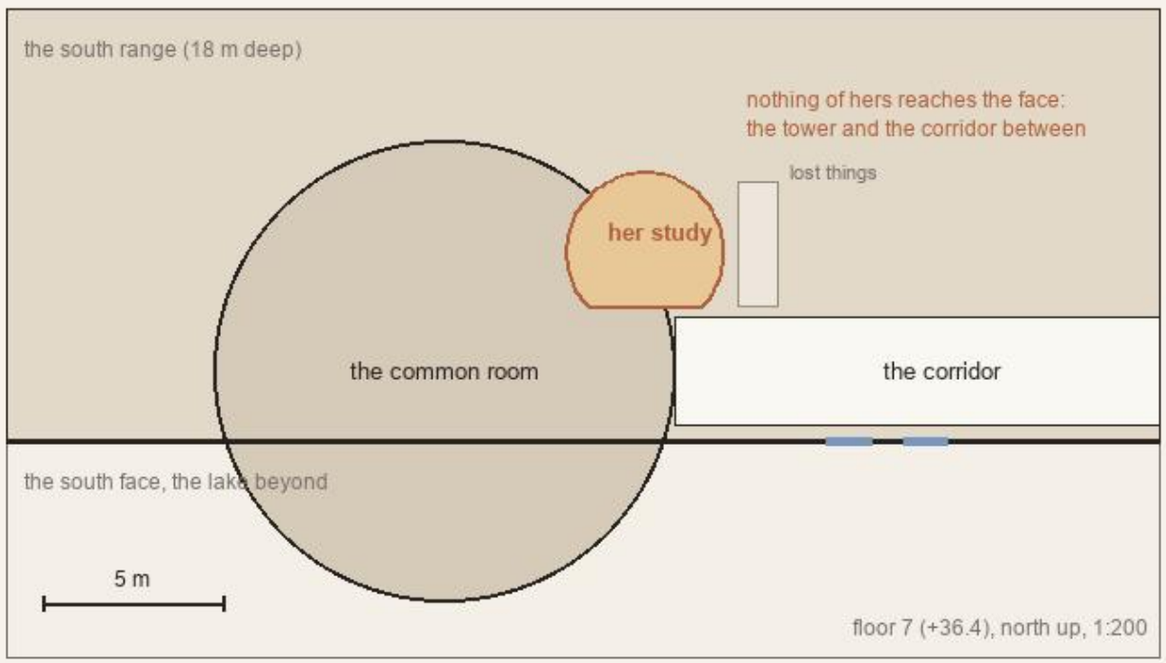

Q18 1: no turret (Q18's 1 kept)

recommended

Q18 2: a small turret after all

Q18 1, recommended

Her study stays where Q18's 1 put it. From the grounds no window is hers: the tower and the corridor stand between. The lion's head is carved on the merlon over her bay, beside the tower. The candlelit window (t1) has no wall of hers to sit in, so it goes to the set-aside list, nothing deleted. Nothing moves.

Q18 2

A round turret 5.1 m across on the flat over her study, her ceiling opened into it, a slate cone to +51.4. One window on its south-east side, sill +45.4, clears the battlements from a boat 120 m out (hidden below +45.1). The tower hides most of it from due south. It changes her room (the study lane's), and the lower boys' rooms' east windows (sills from +44.9) see the cone.